Adorn your bridal chamber, Sion, and receive Christ the King; embrace Mary, who is the gate of heaven, for she herself bears the King of glory. With a new light the Virgin stands, leading by the hand the Son who was begotten before the day-star, whom Simeon, receiving him in his arms, proclaims to the peoples to be the Lord of life and death, and the Salvation of the world.

Let the chorus of the faithful joyfully rejoice, alleluia.

2. The King of kings was brought forth from the womb of the undefiled:
O wondrous thing.

3. The Angel of counsel is born of the Virgin: the sun from the star.

4. The sun knows no setting, the star ever shining, ever bright.

5. As the star brings forth its ray, so the Virgin brings forth her son, equal in form.

6. Neither the star by its ray, nor the mother by her son, is corrupted.

7. The tall cedar of Lebanon is fashioned into the hyssop, in our valley.

8. The Word, the being of the Most High, has deigned to become incarnate, taking on flesh.

9. Isaiah foretold it, the Synagogue remembers it, yet she never ceases to be bound.

10. If her own prophets she will not heed, let her believe those of the nations: in the verses of the Sibyl these things were predicted.

11. Unhappy man, make haste; believe even these things of old: why be condemned, you chosen ones?

12. Contemplate the newborn one whom the scriptures reveal, whom the child-bearing woman has begotten. Alleluia.
