et sé- mi- ni e- ius.

O Lord Jesus Christ, king of glory, deliver the souls of all the faithful departed from the pains of hell and from the deep pit; deliver them from the mouth of the lion, that hell may not swallow them up, and they may not fall into darkness; but may the holy standard bearer Michael introduce them to the holy light, * which You promised of old to Abraham and to his seed. ℣. We offer to You, O Lord, sacrifice of praise and prayers; receive them in behalf of those souls whom we commemorate this day; grant them, O Lord, to pass from death to that life, * which You promised of old to Abraham and to his seed.

May eternal light shine upon them, O Lord, with Your saints forever, because You are merciful.

℣.¹ I have lifted up my eyes to the mountains, from whence help shall come to me.

℣.² My help is from the Lord, who made heaven and earth.

℣.³ May he not suffer your foot to be moved: neither let him slumber that keepeth you.

℣.⁴ Behold he shall neither slumber nor sleep, that keepeth Israel.

℣.⁵ The Lord is your keeper, the Lord is thy protection upon thy right hand.

℣.⁶ The sun shall not burn you by day: nor the moon by night.

℣.⁷ The Lord keepeth you from all evil: may the Lord keep your soul.

℣.⁸ May the Lord keep your coming in and thy going out; from henceforth now and for ever.

Deliver me, O Lord, from death eternal in that awful day. When the heavens and the earth shall be moved: When you shall come to judge the world through fire. ℣. That day, that day of wrath, of sore distress and of misery, that great and exceeding bitter day. ℣. Dread has laid hold on me, and I fear exceedingly because of the judgment and of the wrath to come. ℣. O God, creator of all things who has formed me from the mire of the earth and has wonderfully redeemed me by your own blood, and although my body may yet decay, you shall make it rise from the tomb on judgement day. Hear, O hear, O hear me, that my soul would you gather to the bosom of Abraham your patriarch.
