V. Turn not away Your face from me: in whatever day I am in tribulation, bend Your ear to me.

V. On each day that I call upon You, make haste to hear me.

V. For my days pass away like smoke; and my bones burn as if in a furnace.

V. I am smitten like grass, and my heart is withered: I have forgotten even to eat my bread.

V. O Lord, you will arise and have mercy on Zion: because the time has come to have mercy on her.

The "Hagios" and "Sanctus" are repeated.

O my people, what have I done to you, or in what way have I afflicted you? Answer me: Because I led you out of the land of Egypt, you have prepared a cross from your Savior.

O holy God, holy and mighty, holy immortal one, have mercy on us.

℣. Because I led you through the desert for forty years, and fed you with manna, and brought you into an excellent land, you have prepared a cross for your Savior.

℣. What more could I have done for you, that I have not done? I have planted you, my most beautiful vine, and you have proved exceeding bitter to me; for vinegar mixed with gall in my thirst you gave me to drink, and with a lance you pierced the side of your Savior.

HYMN

Venantius Fortunatus

I

F aithful Cross! A-bove all oth-ers, ★ One and on-ly noble tree! None in foliage, none in blossom, None in fruit, your peer may be; Precious wood and precious fast'ning, Precious weight upheld in plea. 1. Sing, my tongue, the noble bat-tle With completed vict'ry rife; O'er the cross, that Victor's trophy Tell the tri-umph of the strife: How the world's Redeemer conquered By surrend'-ring of his life. 2. God, his Maker, with compassion When the first-made

Adam fell, When he ate the fruit of sorrow, Whose re-ward was death and hell, Noted then this Wood, the ru-in Of the an-cient wood to quell. 3. This, the work of our sal-vation, He appointed to a- tone; To the traitor's wiles op- posing Art more sub- tle than his own; And from there would bring the healing

Where the harm had first been sown. 4. Wherefore, then with sacred fullness Of the destined time complete, He was sent, the world's cre- a- tor From the Father's heav- 'n-ly seat; And, from Virgin born, pro-ceeded, God made Man, the foe to meet. 5. There he lies an infant weeping Where the narrow manger stands; And his limbs

the virgin-mother Warm enfolds in swaddling bands; Meetly thus, with garment wrapping, Binding feet and legs and hands. 6. Thirty years a-mong us dwelling, His appointed time ful-filled, Born for this he meets his passion, This in-deed he freely willed; On the cross the Lamb is lifted Where his life-blood shall be spilled. 7. He endured the nails, the spitting, Vin-e-gar and spear and reed; From that ho-ly bod-y broken, Blood and wa- ter forth proceed: Earth and stars and sky and ocean, By that flood from stain are freed.

8. Bend your boughs, O Tree of glo-ry! Your re-laxing sinews bend;

For a while the ancient rigor, That your birth bestowed, suspend;

And the King of heav'nly beauty On your bos-om gently tend.

9. You alone were counted worthy This world's ransom to sus-tain,

That a shipwrecked race for- ev-er Might the port of refuge gain; With the sacred blood a- noined Of the Lamb for sinners slain. 10. Praise and honor to the Father; Praise and honor to the Son, Praise and honor to the Spirit, Ev-er three and ev-er one;

Consub-stantial, co-e- ternal, While un-end-ing ag-es run. A-men.
